

Benefits of a network

1. Resources

files and printers saving on the amount of equipment that is needed

2. Communication

Communicate with all systems on the network

3. Run Programs

Run programs that exist on other machines to save on software licensing

4. Security

Specific directories can be password protected to limit access to authorized users.

5. Remote Assistance

For technical users to be able to offer instant help to any system on a network meaning less technical

6. Shared Internet access

Several systems share one Internet connection saving money on connection costs
